ORGANIZING COMPANIES

Many New Corporations Organized for Business in Nebraska—Doings at State Capitol

(By Herald correspondent)
Lincoln, Nebr., Nov. 17—That the state of Nebraska is enjoying a large degree of prosperity is indicated by the number of domestic corporations that are being organized in this state. During the past months the records in the office of Secretary of State Charles W. Pool show that ed, the combined capital of which is eighteen large corporations have filed, the combined capital of which is nearly $3,000,000. Besides these there was filed a long list of smaller corporations with capital stock from $5,000 to $25,000 each.

The Live Stock Sanitary Board has raised the quarantine on horses and mules on the five western counties of Blaine, Cherry, Grant, Hooker and Thomas. This quarantine was established November 7, 1914, during the epidemic of durane which existed in that territory. During the year over 2,000 horses, mares and stallions were tested and about thirty-five killed. Another important change the board has made is that where formerly animals shipped into the state required only health certificates, they can only be admitted now in compliance with the station registration law. This it is said will save the farmers and horse owners of Nebraska a good many thousands of dollars a year in the betterment of stock conditions generally.

The word "cure" on the labels of packages or bottles containing proprietary medicines will hereafter be tabooed in Nebraska, according to a decision just handed down by a local court, in which the state Pure Food and Drug Commission was plaintiff, and the defendant a local drug store selling patent medicines. The defendants took an appeal to the district court, but eventually decided to pay the lower court's fine of $50 and costs, on condition that they be given time to get their stock in shape to comply with the law. The case grew out of the interpretation by Food Commissioner Clarence E. Harman of the drug law that the word "cure" on labels of proprietary medicines was misleading and not in conformity with the statutes.

The total amount of expense for assessing the state of Nebraska for 1915, as certified to by Secretary O. E. Bernecker of the State Board of Equalization, is as follows:
Salary of county assessors 47,015.00
Office help 24,156.15
Salary of precinct assessors 132,751.57
Books, schedules blanks 11,734.56

Total $215,657.28

E. J. Halner, a Lincoln lawyer who is interested in properties and also a stockholder in a creamery, last week filed a brief in the supreme court, as amicus curiae, or friend of the court, relative to the case now pending in that tribunal, in which Fire Commissioner Ridgell is mandamising State Treasurer Hall to compel him to pay fire commission warrants issued by the state auditor. The outcome of this case will probably decide the food commission's right to draw fees from the state treasury. The brief of Mr. Halner takes the position that inasmuch as these fees are paid into the treasury for the specific purpose of maintaining those departments, and no provision being made for any other use of this money, that these funds take the form of trust funds and that the state treasurer has no legal right to use them for any other purpose without the proper legislative action. Mr. Halner quotes various court decisions and authorities in substantiation of his view of the case.

Livestock Exportations

The system of records adopted by the Live Stock Sanitary Board is very interesting and are compiled for the protection of stockmen and farmers in securing the very best class of live stock.

The board's report covers the period between April 1 and October 31, 1915. During that period exportations of live stock have been sent out to 35 states and Canada, and are as follows: 145 stallions; 3,489 horses; 2,714 mares; 291 mules; 7,338 cattle; 1,574 dairy and breeding cattle; 731 of which was applied the Tuberculin test; 317 sheep and 790 swine. A great record for a great state.

This report does not cover live stock shipped to public markets for immediate slaughter.
